

Pick Cases

This is new: the first Roadinger Cases with pickfoam and with dividers. The pick cases thus combine two ideas. The cases are completely filled inside with pickfoam, a foam material that consists of many small blocks. These little blocks are stuck together, but you can easily pick them out and customize to your needs.

These types of cases are really popular and have been in our program for many years. What is new about it now is, that also dividers are included. Dividers are wooden slats that you can fix between the walls of the cases or with each other. If you want to create separate areas in the case, dividers are the appropriate means.

The pick cases now combine these two ideas. You create your desired areas and then line them with the pickfoam. So now you can stow your sensitive equipment or other items optimally protected and well-packed.
