

PRESS RELEASE

Tiny, but talented

Wadlbüttelbrunn – March 5, 2012: Steinigke Showtechnic enlarges its Eurolite TMH family and presents 8 remarkable newcomers at the proligh+sound. Meanwhile a dozen of these small, but very powerful Tiny Moving Heads are available – a huge selection which meets the most different demands.

The TMH series consists of 12 different Moving Heads having two things in common: they are gratifyingly tiny and shine thanks to LEDs – and at really anything but a weak level. The small size of the moving heads saves space during installation and transport. A low weight additionally facilitates the task.

Versatile, small, powerful

But differences between the 12 models are persuasive as well. Considering number, power and type of LEDs (TCL, QCL and so forth) the TMHs are varying. The construction itself also differs (spotlight, washlight). On the basis of the various ingredients you will get unimagined freedom. The freedom of a huge choice – perfectly fitting to your own demands.

Where to use the very accurate working TMHs is dependent on the respective unit. Discotheques, bars, galas, exhibitions or smaller stages can generally be recommended. Rooms with limited electrical and mechanical resources are suitable as well. In the end, the TMHs hardly require space and power.

Flagships

New flagships are the washlight TMH-50, which features 24 quadcolor LEDs with 12 watts each and the spotlight TMH-60, which shows a 60 watt LED, two gobo wheels, a rotating 3-facet prism and a motorized focus. But also exotics such as the TMH-PK with pink LEDs or the TMH-20 with LEDs of both sides of the head can be found within the series.

Steinigke at the proligh+sound: hall 11.0, stand A 11 + A 05.
