Description:

Secure and modern!

If a record player goes on a journey, it should protect itself from falls, drops, kicks and similar, after all it's not a naturally solid device, equipped with an incorruptible technic. If a turntable could pick its transport, it sure would set its mind on our plastic case. After all it stands for a high level of security with its scratch- and shockproof ABS-case and the foam upholstery on the inside. Thanks to the plastic, the case is considerably lighter compared to its wooden counterparts and therefore won't be too much of a burden to the carrier. Due to the considered modern design, several cases can easily be piled up.
