Description:

Flightcase for all purposes

The ROADINGER Universal-Transport-Case can be used in many ways, for example as a tourcase. The high-quality finish with multi-layered glued wood provide for durability. The interior and the top are lined with black felt.

The necessary stability of the transport case is provided by the aluminium profile frame with rounded corners. You can close the case with two large butterfly locks. The three-legged, large steel ball corners allow you to stack your cases optimally.

With the two chrome-plated case folding handles, you always have your universal transport case safely under control.

The maximum load is 25 kg.
