Description:

You are planning a Motto- or Halloween party and are still looking for a suitable decoration for the right scary atmosphere?

With a mischievous grin, the hiker of Europalms welcomes your guests. He wears a torn robe with hood. His hollow skeleton skull is illuminated by two green LEDs on the inside. Via a motorized mechanism his head first tilts forward and then up and down as if he was nodding to someone. A sneaky laughter completes the animation.

The figure's arms can be bent into shape and his bony hands look like big claws, which he holds out to your guests. A stick consisting of 3 segments can be clamped in his left hand.

The animation of the Halloween figure is activated by an integrated microphone or wired manual control.
