Description:

When the nights get longer and the shadows grow deeper, creepy tales, myths and legends in which "Grim Reaper" plays a role come back to life.

Dressed in a long, black robe with a hood, Europalms' standing figure exudes a sombre presence. This is emphasized by its skeletonized hands and the skull that serves as its face, and gives the viewer and sends an icy shiver down the viewer's spine. Involuntarily, it reminds us of the classic symbols of the grim reaper or the angel of death. Its flexible arms also give the impression that it is just waiting to grab everyone to take the souls of the deceased to the afterlife.

Whether in the entrance area, living room or garden - this figure makes a perfect backdrop for any Halloween party and provides just the right amount of spookiness for guests.
