Descrizione :

The evergreen lobe moss is a true all-rounder: It is particularly suitable for vertical room greening, decorative arrangements and floral arrangements. It is also frequently used in model making and handicrafts.

It is a purely natural product that retains its natural appearance for a long time due to a special preservation process. The individual moss rags have different sizes due to the harvest. They are easy to work with and give a harmonious overall appearance even when used over large areas.

The moss mats are suitable for indoor and outdoor applications.
